

The Technical Planning Team for the Fort St John Land and Resource Management Plan Update will continue to meet bi-weekly throughout the Fall months. The group is currently focused on assembling the technical information required to support the land use planning process.

Terms of Reference and Engagement Strategy drafting has been paused while negotiations are underway between the Province and Blueberry River First Nations.

Engagement activities are currently postponed and will be reconvened once we have substantive information or direction to share with the public and stakeholders.